about me

I'm a Christian award-winning author and speaker who is passionate about helping girls and women grow in faith, healing, and wholeness.

I've taught high school AP Psychology, I hold a Master's in Marriage and Family Counseling, and have written ten books, including sweet romances as well as a couple of books on Christian living such as The Weight of the Ring and Worth the Wait, which speak directly into identity, purity, and purpose.
